

Best Nerve Specialist In England Was Consulted

But Nervous System Failed to Respond to Treatment Prescribed

Nervous disorders frequently result from injury to the nerves in accidents or because of the shock to the system.

The writer of this letter was in a mix-up with some colts, and in spite of continued treatment in hospital could not obtain restoration of the internal nerves which control the action of the digestive and other vital organs. He travelled to Europe and consulted England's greatest nerve specialist. Relief was only temporary, in spite of many treatments used.

His letter gives the facts briefly and tells how he was finally cured by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Can you imagine any more severe test of this great nerve restorative?

Mr. Henry F. Venn, Cefu Ranch, Malakwa, B.C., writes: "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has restored my nervous system and given me new health."

Having met with a severe accident seven years ago, from which I was unconscious and which left my nerves in a very sore plight, I was treated by doctors galore and consulted one of the greatest nerve specialists in England, but nothing seemed to do me much good. Hypophosphites and, in fact, all and every kind of nerve mixture in almost every form was used, but never with more than temporary benefit.

"But Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has acted very differently, for it has built up my nervous system until I feel like my old self again. If this medicine will do for others what it has done for me, I shall not regret having written this letter. I have recommended the Nerve Food personally to many, and shall always esteem it its great restorative value."

Not a Vindictive People

The British are not a vindictive people. They are engaged in this war from no selfish motive. They are not fighting in any spirit of revenge. But we are greatly mistaken if there is not arising from every British heart today a sincere prayer that Germany will be made to pay, and pay dearly, for the inhumanity being displayed toward a small and weak nation, a nation which has committed no crime in the eyes of either God or man, whose only offence has been a determination to resist an aggressor and to defend its liberties and independence as a people. — Regina Leader.

The Crime Against Belgium

Shot and Shell the Only Argument That Is Left

It may be thought that the action of Germany in deporting the adult male population of Belgium has not been denounced with enough severity. The reason may be that the resources of human language have been exhausted in condemning German conduct in Belgium. The murders and worse outrages committed in 1914 shocked the world. Nothing worse could be done. Nothing remained to be said. Remonstrance seemed to be useless. No argument except shot and shell seemed of any avail to reach the hard heart of those who committed or countenanced those crimes. Yet the deportation of the Belgians is an act, if it stood by itself, would have made the civilized world stand aghast. It is described by the military expert of the New York Times as "an act which the world has never seen paralleled since the dawn of civilization," which savors of the barbarism of the Germanic tribes which flooded North and eastern Europe in the third century.

And this fresh outrage comes at a time when German leaders are beginning to talk as if they deplored the horrors of the war. The German Chancellor a few days ago said that if at the end of war the world became fully conscious of the horrifying destruction of life and property, then throughout the whole of humanity there would ring out a cry of peaceful arrangements and understandings to prevent the return of such a catastrophe.

The world already realizes the horrors of war, and would willingly consider any plan for preventing them. But Germany continues to behave as to close the door to any means of prevention except the crushing defeat of Germany. It is impossible to believe that those who are making Belgium a hell on earth for peaceful citizens are sincere when they express a desire for a future of peace in which humanity shall reign. If Germany ever becomes an instrument of peace it will be by demonstrating how men can be brutalized by lust of conquest and love of war. War is a terrible evil at best. Germany seems bent upon showing how bad it can be.

So long as this goes on there will appear to be a choice between only two kinds of peace: the peace of a world terrified into submission by German frightfulness, and the peace of a world in which Germany will be deprived of the power of doing harm. The Chancellor talks peace. But the deed done in Belgium is a fresh declaration of war.—From the Toronto Star.

Southern Manitoba In Early Days

How the Village of Lariviere Obtained Its Name

The steel highway was forging its progress through the Manitoba prairie land during the years of the latter eighties. A great transportation company was diligent in the propaganda of extending its sinews into localities, issues of its main artery, one limb of which thrust into Southern Manitoba. And this branch had been built to the hillsides of Pembina, a distance from Winnipeg of one hundred and twelve miles. It had been decided that a divisional point be established at this place in the valley, 'neath the shade of the hilly ramparts, yet no name had been accorded. In connection with other business, several officials had assembled; amongst such was Land Commissioner McTavish. The selection of a fitting name brought forth a multitude of suggestions, and amongst the participants of the discussion was a member of a well-known family, the name of whom will be at once recognized.

"Call the place L-a-r-i-v-i-e-r-e!" exclaimed he with a tone in which the French accent was distinctly audible.

The name thus selected finally was that of its proposer. The English translation of that word signifies "the river," and no more suitable cognomen could have been given. For the dramatic surroundings, the village of Lariviere, surpasses a majority of provincial localities.

It may be remarked that in the vicinity of the railway station a pathway winding to the summit of the hills will be observed. From this point of vantage, the circuitous course of the river, several miles through big trees and p

The Annotated Guide

C. P. R. Publication That Keeps a Record of the Progress of the West

No publication issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway is better known all over the world than the "Annotated Guide," describing every station along the line. Issued originally at the suggestion of Sir William Van Horne, it has passed through many editions and is now a fair-sized book owing to the great increase in the extent of the railway system. It is interesting to look over the early issues to see how Canada has progressed. In 1888, for instance, Winnipeg had a population of only 25,000, Fort William 1,400, Regina 800, Calgary 2,400, Lake Louise had not been discovered, and Vancouver was proud of its 5,200. Indian Head was famous for the Bell Farm, of which the "Annotated Guide" remarks: "The furrows on this farm are usually ploughed four miles long, and to plough one furrow outward and another returning is a half day's work for a man and team. The work is done with an almost military organization, ploughing by brigades and reaping by divisions." Toronto is described as "distinctly western in its activity and energy."

That success in modern warfare often may depend upon the employment of some article or contrivance is a fact which has been proved again and again by the history of the Canadian troops in their recent advances against the forces of the old American Indian and trapper trick of carrying supplies by the aid of a "tump line," which is a line of men, each carrying a load of supplies, and passing it from one to another.

Velvet Jacket

HOW much of the princely dignity in a Van Dyck or a Holbein is due to the severity and elegance combined in the garb of the subject? The fact that the richness of the material is so evident makes it a simple matter for Dame Fashion to receive prompt response to her call for velvet.

A very stunning creation is the three-piece suit, the top of which is here shown. The coat is in the practical three-quarter length which stamps the wrap appropriate as a separate garment. Following the strict ruling that fur, and quantities of it, must be used, this suit has a generous cape collar as novel in cut as one could desire. Touches of the fur appear on the sleeves and bottom of the coat.

Velvet is used successfully to form the jacket of a sports suit. The style of the coat reminds one of father's smoking jacket, while the brass buttons bring to mind things militaire. The checked material of the skirt is introduced on the collar and continues down the inside, forming a warm lining.

There is a tendency at present to have the fur trimming match the color of the suit. This is brought out in the gray velvet suit trimmed with bands of mole. The popular coat suit length is observed, also the vogue for the wide spreading collar. The little hat is of gray velvet, and has only a band of white brocaded ribbon to ornament it.

If it is not feasible for one to have an entire suit of velvet, one is at liberty to combine velvet with cloth just as two materials are used to create the black and red costume. The red velvet coat would stand apart from the black broadcloth skirt were it not for the belt and narrow cuff of the cloth. A salient feature of the coat is the cut of the sleeves. Near the wrist they are patterned after the sleeve of a man's shirt. To increase the mannishness of the coat two generous pockets are provided.

The becomingness of the Russian line gives it a permanent hold on womankind. Hence the reason for the dark purple suit made with the skirted coat. Skunk, one of the season's most fashionable furs, forms the snug-fitting collar and the deep cuffs.

Crowded House Witnesses Production of "The Lost Fairy Queen"

Something of a novelty was introduced to Strathmore audiences on Friday last, when the Christmas pantomime "The Lost Fairy Queen" was staged in the Opera House, by Mrs. Allen. The seats had been selling rapidly during the previous two weeks and long before the curtain was raised the sign "standing room only" had to be hung out. Mrs. Allen's ability as a producer of high-class and attractive entertainments is so well known, and this, coupled with the fact that a pantomime is an innovation to Strathmore, was, no doubt, responsible for the large and enthusiastic audience. Spectacular and elaborate scenery had been prepared and we can safely say that never have we seen the stage looking so pretty as it did on Friday. Special lighting effects had been installed for the occasion by Mr. Bruce Robinson (of the Delco Electric Light Co.), this gentleman giving the light and also the services for the evening. Appropriate and pretty music was also rendered in a manner which left nothing to be desired by Mrs. King. All this, scenery, music and lighting, helped in no small measure in making the pantomime the success it was.

The audience was prepared for something out of the ordinary, but when the curtain rose on the opening scene it was evident that the majority were completely taken by surprise. The mountains in the background and the trees dotted around the stage, with the little fairies (dressed in fairy garments of various hues) lying peacefully asleep made several rub their eyes as if it were a dream and they were really in Fairyland.

Editorial Comment

The old, old question of Town Constables was threshed out again on Tuesday at the meeting of the City Fathers. Some were of the opinion that a Constable was not needed while others were of the opinion that we were in need of a policeman as in the time when the bars were open. Apart from what transpired at the Council meeting it is our firm belief that we do not need anyone to supervise the town. We may not have tank robberies or murders or anything of that description that requires the services of a Sheriff, Holmes, or unruly, and we do not anticipate trouble in the town but there are times when it would be rather convenient to have a policeman around.

The possibilities of an early election are again floating around, but we have not got used to hearing this kind of talk that we just naturally have to close our eyes and smile.

The new City Fathers must have been very impressed on Tuesday evening with the somewhat elaborate lighting system in use at the Town Hall. The failure of the gasoline light to perform its required duties necessitated the Secretary having to rustle a couple of coal oil lamps. Whether it was the atmosphere or the sight of new faces sitting around the green baize we do not know, but even one of the coal oil lamps went on strike and lagged into oblivion. With not one light left the room presented a somewhat weird appearance and ghostlike shadows began to dance around, and if it had not been for the voices echoing back and forth we should have thought that we were under some hypnotic influence or else had been indulging in a beautiful pie dream down in Chinatown.

The following account was received: W. Saunders, to cleaning pipes and stove in the Firehall twice $8.00. Coun. Butler moved and Coun. Brown seconded that the account be handed over to the Finance Committee.

By-Law No. 38 authorizing the Council to borrow $2500 to cover the arrears of taxes was read the necessary three times and carried.

APPOINTMENT OF CONSTABLE.

The somewhat ancient and heretofore subject of a Town Constable was again brought forward. Some of the Councillors thought a Constable was needed while others were of the opinion that the services of a Constable could be dispensed with. The pros and cons of the case was discussed with great vigor and finally it was decided to leave the solving of this problem in the hands of the Police Committee. This motion was proposed by Coun. Brown, seconded by Coun. Butler.

LIGHTING ARRANGEMENTS

Having strained their eyes in the somewhat difficult task of trying to penetrate the darkness and glare of the Town Hall owing to the City lighting apparatus having gone out of order, the Council were of the opinion that the defect should be remedied. Coun. Butler thereupon moved and Coun. Zerkle seconded that the Secretary be authorized to have the old light fixed,

The Mayor and new Councillors having taken the oath of office, the regular business was then commenced.

The various committees for the ensuing year were then formed.

Coun. Brown was elected Deputy Mayor for the year.

The Secretary then read the minutes of the last meeting which were adopted on the motion of Coun. Butler, seconded by Coun. Zerkle.

CORRESPONDENCE

A letter was read from the Secretary of the Union of Municipalities notifying the Council that the subscription fee of $10 for 1916 had not been paid by the town.

The Mayor would like to receive same at the earliest opportunity. Quite a little discussion took place on this matter. The Mayor did not see the necessity of paying the $10 fee. He thought it was simply throwing money away as he had never seen (during the year that the Council had subscribed) that they had received any visible benefit from the Union. Several of the Councillors differed from the Mayor in this respect and Coun. Brown pointed out that there was no doubt the Union did do good work in regard to getting amendments to the Town Act passed through the Legislature. It was not a question of getting $10 for the $10 but rather for the various municipalities to work together and try and get those things altered in the Town Act which it would be impossible for individual towns, like Strathmore, to alter.

Coun. Brown proposed and Coun. Butler seconded "That the Secretary write the Secretary of the Union asking for particulars of legislation procured for the towns and also asking for a balance sheet of last year's work." This motion was carried.

A letter was read from Mr. McCann asking the permission of the Council to cut in the Park Lane. This was another subject for great discussion. The Mayor thought the application should not be granted. The ice was used to a great extent by the residents of town for skating purposes and if the Council allowed people to go in and cut holes in the ice, someone would be sure to fall in and receive serious injuries and the Council would be held responsible. The people cutting ice to put a fence around the part they were cutting. Coun. Givens thought they granted the application to all it would mean a great saving to those who had to put in a quantity of ice each year. Finally Coun. Zerkle moved that the application be granted. The letter be laid over until the next meeting.

ACCOUNTS

The following account was received: W. Saunders, to cleaning pipes and stove in the Firehall twice $8.00. Coun. Butler moved and Coun. Brown seconded that the account be handed over to the Finance Committee.

By-Law No. 38 authorizing the Council to borrow $2500 to cover the arrears of taxes was read the necessary three times and carried.

APPOINTMENT OF CONSTABLE.

The somewhat ancient and heretofore subject of a Town Constable was again brought forward. Some of the Councillors thought a Constable was needed while others were of the opinion that the services of a Constable could be dispensed with. The pros and cons of the case was discussed with great vigor and finally it was decided to leave the solving of this problem in the hands of the Police Committee. This motion was proposed by Coun. Brown, seconded by Coun. Butler.

LIGHTING ARRANGEMENTS

Having strained their eyes in the somewhat difficult task of trying to penetrate the darkness and glare of the Town Hall owing to the City lighting apparatus having gone out of order, the Council were of the opinion that the defect should be remedied. Coun. Butler thereupon moved and Coun. Zerkle seconded that the Secretary be authorized to have the old light fixed, or if that was impossible, then to buy a new one. This motion was received with a fervent "Hear, hear."

This being all the business the meeting then adjourned.
